FIFTY DOLLARS IN GOLD

Here is an opportunity by which you may earn Fifty Dollars in Gold.

The competition is open to everybody, and not confined to experts.

To the person submitting a name and design for a brand of Baking Powder that shall prove acceptable to us, we will pay Fifty Dollars in Gold.

Each person competing shall have all the freedom be of the design.

Each person competing shall have all the freedom he or she shall desire in the selection of the name and the arrangement of the design. We, however, offer this advice: the name should preferably be short, easy to pronounce and remembered; should have a pleasant association, and be suggestive of purity and excellence of quality; the design accompanying the name should possess preferably a central predominating object (animate preferred) that shall be appropriate to the name and shall possess the quality of stamping itself on the mind of the public.

While we make the above suggestions to those entering the competition, we want each person competing to feel free to pursue his or her own ideas, and to submit as many names and sketches as he or she may desire. Colored sketches are more expressive, but not required. A pencil sketch may be the winner. The suitability of the name and the merit of the design, rather than the workmanship on the sketch, will control the selection.

In order to enter the competition, all sketches must be received before July 1, 1913.

Any one desiring to have his sketch returned, if not accepted, must forward the necessary postage with sketch. A letter addressed to P. O. Box 1215. Richmond, will procure the address to which the sketch can be mailed.
